

- Aesthetic Training

UBER...the wakeup beautiful company have recently launched their new training programmes, to open up opportunities for Aesthetic Training. Our approach to this sector is Unique and Pioneering and aims to develop those delegates who we believe not only deserve to be undertaking these treatments but who are qualified and experienced to be a part of this expanding 'Cosmetic Non-Surgical' injectable market.

UBER do not train delegates like any other company, we believe a half day's course or full day combination dermal filler and botox training is just not acceptable? And we are about to change the way things are done?

This unique training opportunity will enable delegates to train to the highest level established to address the growing UK market and demand for professional training in Aesthetic Cosmetic Procedures and Products. Courses will cover Botulinum Toxin and Dermal fillers education whilst providing injection techniques for the complete novice as well as the highly experienced practitioner.

Most salon owners sub-contract out their injectable treatments, but with our comprehensive training you will have the opportunity to carry out your own clientele's cosmetic treatments, thus growing and building upon your own aesthetic business!

The courses are devised to enable you to reach your best possible educational needs. You will be trained by qualified and experienced lecturers in Aesthetic Procedures, Anatomy and Physiology, Health, Hygiene and Sterilisation. Most importantly you will receive Continuous Development after your training with Full Support, Products, Client Documents, Full Comprehensive Training Manuals and Marketing ideas.

Our courses are fully insurable with one of the UK's leading Malpractice Insurance Companies, which clearance is compulsory prior to you commencing on any of our courses.
